

FROM VALUES TO POLICY & LEGISLATION:

Breaking Trail in a Heritage
Self-Governing Context

March 22, 2013

WHITEHORSE

In an effort to engage in cross-cultural and interdisciplinary dialogue, this symposium will draw together Yukon First Nations representatives, policy makers and legal experts to explore how non-tangible values (e.g. balance, respect, integrity, and responsibility) and Indigenous law, can be used to create policy and legislation in the area of heritage by self-governing Yukon First Nations. Ultimately we aim to consider how new community driven policy-making strategies can meet the unique needs of Aboriginal communities.

This event is part of the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council funded Cost of Justice Project